THE SENATORS
HOME AGAIN.DOUBLE-HEADERS IN BOTH LEAGUES TODAY

Senators Celebrate Their Return and the Fourth by Stacking Up Against Lajoie's Braves for Two Games.

Loftus and His Little Band Reached the City Last Night After a Disastrous and Tiresome Trip Through the West.

At the ball parks in the cities of the National and American Baseball Leagues today, the ballplayers will celebrate the glorious Fourth by playing double-headers—one game in the forenoon and another in the afternoon. The national game on the national holiday always is an occasion for great gatherings of the fans. Cleveland opened here this morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the second game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Home, Sweet Home!

The Senators, headed by Tom Loftus, reached this city at 10 o'clock last night, travel-stained, weary and thoroughly cowed after the long series of terrific wallpings they received at the hands of the inhospitable Westerners, whose guests they have been since June 19.

The trip just completed was one of the most disastrous ever undertaken by a Washington club, but two victories falling to their lot. Of the many defeats received, nearly all were shutouts, thereby hanging up a new record in this respect for the season of 1903.

Strange to say, the team played better ball in the field on this trip than at any time previous this season, but oh! the batting! Game after game netted a total of but three hits, which cannot, and never will, win games. More misfortunes followed in the team's wake, Delehanty, Ryan and Carey being laid up for awhile. Del was replaced by Martin, who, by the way, led his club mates at the bat. Clarke played a good game at first and did good stick work, while Lee, in center, played glit-edged ball.

Carey has been home several days and the chances are he will break into the game before long.

Delehanty Not Here.

Delehanty did not return with the club, but is expected at any time, since his wife is here awaiting him.

Mauch Kittredge, the catcher, released by Boston, has been signed by Loftus and is expected to join the team at any moment. This will greatly bolster up the catching end of the game, since the chances are that Bill Clarke will spend the majority of his time at the initial sack.

Utley Not a Senator.

Jerry Utley, the college pitcher, reported to have been signed by Postal, is not a member of the Washington club after all. Loftus says he did not care to come East, and in consequence did not sign. This in a measure bears out the prediction made in these columns when the dispatch announcing the deal was first received. This leaves the club in the same shape, as far as pitchers are concerned, as it was when it left home. If the team continues to back up the slab men as it has done of late, and can only get their eye on the ball, it would have a fair show to win an occasional game, otherwise nothing but defeats and shut-outs can follow.

Hart Will Protest.

James J. Hart, president of the Chicago National Club, announced last night that if George Davis played with the Giants today and the Chicago lost he would protest the game, and a bitter war in the National League may be precipitated.

As no right to be warded to the peace conference, and I am uphold the said Mr. Hart, times, as I believe of the game, games I shall not need to protest, but if the Giants win a game against my team with Davis playing I shall protest."

DEATH IN WAKE OF GOULD YACHT WHISTLE

Causes Panic Among Horses and Driver Is Killed as They Dash Overboard.

PORT WASHINGTON, L. I., July 4.—One man was killed and two horses drowned as the result of a panic among horses on the dock when they heard the piercing whistle of Howard Gould's yacht, the Niagara, yesterday afternoon. There were four teams on the wharf and all dashed frantically away at the sound. Three plunged overboard and the other rushed up the dock and came into collision with a tree.

William McCallion, a driver of one of the teams that went into the water, fell on a pile of rocks and was killed. Mrs. Gould sent for physicians, but when Dr. Sheldon arrived McCallion was dead. Two of the teams were rescued.

RESCUED BY FIREMEN.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Twenty-one persons, unconscious from smoke, were rescued by firemen from a blazing four-story frame building in Newark Avenue, Jersey City, at daybreak yesterday. The firemen could not work fast enough with their ladders, and several of the rescued were tossed safely into the life net.

RAIN AND DARKNESS
PUT AN END TO GAME

Church League Game Called With the Score Tied.

With the score tied, rain and darkness put an end to the Church League game between the Temple Baptist and Sixth Presbyterian teams in the sixth inning yesterday.

The Presbyterians presented a patched-up team. Third Baseman Bielaski was compelled to do the pitching, and twirled a much better game than was expected of him. Temple Baptist had Fulcher, probably the best amateur pitcher in the city, on the rubber, and was confident of winning, but was disappointed.

The Gunton Temple-Fourth Presbyterian game, scheduled for today, has been postponed.

M'FADDEN FIGHTS FAST
DRAW WITH GARDNER

BOSTON, July 4.—George McFadden, the lightweight fighter of New York, and Jimmy Gardner, of Lowell, Mass., who is regarded as a coming lightweight champion, fought a fast ten-round bout before the Tammany Athletic Club, of this city, which was declared a draw by Referee Donnelly.

Both men fought hard throughout the contest. Gardner forced the fighting, and landed left and right swings in McFadden's face, while the latter relied on sending punches for Jimmy's stomach. The verdict of a draw was well received by the spectators.

WALKING CONTEST BEGINS.

William W. Markle, the district passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, and L. C. Whitaker, acting passenger agent of the Norfolk and Western, left yesterday afternoon for a twenty-five-mile walk to Herndon, Va., and return. The walk is to be a contest of endurance between the two.

RACES AT BRIGHTWOOD.

Trotting and mixed races will be decided at Brightwood this afternoon. The first event will be started promptly at 2 o'clock.

GIANTS TO STRIVE
IN A. A. U. CONTESTS

Foster, of Harvard, Will Try for All-Around Championship Today.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Celtic Park this afternoon will be the scene of the annual Fourth of July athletic carnival and the all-around championship of the A. A. U. will be decided. This event is the classic of American athletics and grows more popular every year. It is the supreme test for an athlete, and among its winners have been some of the real great men of the track and field.

Today Harvard sends its noted "strong man," T. W. C. Foster, who has the reputation of being a remarkable athlete. He is a crack baseball player, was substitute fullback on the football team last year, a member of the varsity crew this year, and in other branches of sport equally as prominent. Ten men entered this year, and the record of 6,300½ points held by Harry Hill, the champion of 1901, is likely to be surpassed. Gunn, Foster, and Green are three men who are expected to perform record-breaking feats.

BAN JOHNSON SCORES
PRESIDENT PULLIAM

Says National League Violated the Peace Pact.

"DECISION IS DISHONEST"

"American Clubs Will Enter Into No Further Agreements With the Organization You Represent."

CHICAGO, July 4.—President Johnson makes public the following letter, in which he speaks his mind:

Chicago, Ill., July 2.
"H. C. Pulliam, President National League:
"Dear Sir: On last Thursday the Chicago papers published your decision in the Davis case. Saturday at noon I received your letter in regard to the matter. This was not a commendable way of submitting official business of such importance to the National and American Leagues.

Decision Dishonest.

"In the light of the declaration of disapproval of your course made by Messrs. Hermann, Hart, and Robinson, of the National League peace committee, it is hardly necessary for me to say that I am surprised and at a loss to explain your unwarranted action. By your decision you condone dishonesty and have placed a premium on contract jumping.

"There was never a question raised in regard to Norman Elberfeld, of Detroit club, nor was there any room for discussion in regard to this player. He was an asset of the Detroit club, the peace agreement placed no restriction upon Mr. Angus, and he was free to make any exchange for Elberfeld that would work for the benefit of his team. Conceding nothing, and to emphasize the fact that no trades would be entertained for Davis and Delehanty, I told you the players must go to the cities where they had been assigned. Is there any reason why the New York National League Club should have been consulted as to the disposition of these men? Both were legally bound to American League clubs when they signed contracts with Brush.

"It was the spirit of the peace conference at Cincinnati to blacklist both men for the good of baseball. The point was raised, however, that we could not discipline the players, much as they deserved it, without sending the men into retirement who had encouraged them to break their contracts. These facts are known: George Davis has a binding contract with the Chicago American League Club, and made the award accordingly. The New York National League Club tampered with the player and prevented fulfilling the contract with the Chicago Club.

Brush's Influence.
"George Davis expressed a desire to come here on the 10th of last May and fulfill his Chicago contract. Money and transportation were sent him, but at the eleventh hour he changed his mind. It was the Brush influence and the New York Club money that kept him from reporting. As late as two weeks ago, another effort was made to bring him to Chicago. It then developed that it would be necessary for the Chicago American League Club to pay out something more than $12,000 in order to cancel his obligation to the New York National League Club.

"You know some of the above facts, as I told them before you some weeks ago. Did you warn Brush that he was violating the Cincinnati agreement? Read carefully the peace agreement, a simple, straightforward document, and you will appreciate how absurd in your decision in the Davis case. Have you a letter requesting that I meet you and Mr. Powers the latter part of this month in New York to take steps in the framing of a new national agreement. The American League will enter into no further agreements with the organization you represent until we know just what we are to expect from the compact signed at Cincinnati in January last and later ratified unanimously by both Leagues.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPH
APPARATUS ORDERED

To Be Used on Warships During Maneuvers Off Portland.

Rear Admiral Bradford, the chief of the Bureau of Equipment, has ordered twenty sets of wireless telegraph instruments of the Slaby-Arco patent to be used upon the warships during the forthcoming maneuvers off Portland next month. They will be installed upon the flagship and on the scouts in order to enable the latter to communicate better with headquarters and report any movements of the "hostile" fleet. The Slaby-Arco system has been on trial by the board of wireless telegraph for several months, and such success has attended the experiments that Rear Admiral Bradford has decided to purchase twenty sets of instruments for permanent use.

The scouting problem has been most carefully worked out for the maneuvers this summer, and will constitute one of the most interesting and profitable features of the operations. The installation of a complete system of wireless telegraph will aid materially in the work.

It is probable the Topoka and the Praries, which have been making experiments with wireless telegraph, will be sent to New England for the maneuvers. They will, however, be fitted out with the Lodge-Muirhead instruments, an English patent, which is highly recommended. The instruments have been ordered and are now at the Georgetown custom house awaiting a decision by the Treasury Department as to whether or not they are dutiable.

JENNINGS TAKES HELM OF BALTIMORE CLUB

Played at Second Base in Yesterday's Game Against the Toronto Team.

Hugh Jennings and the players, secured by the Baltimore management, reached the Monumental City yesterday, and Jennings assumed the helm of the club.

The new captain-manager played second base against Toronto in yesterday's game, and McCredie played in right field.

Says the "Baltimore Herald":
"Jennings, of course, was the center of attraction, and the crowd of fans present watched eagerly every move made by the new second baseman with a view to determining whether or not this was really the Hughy of old, the Prince Rupert of the diamond. It was the consensus of opinion that it was the same Hughy, barring a few trifling limitations imposed by the hand of old Father Time, who spares neither king nor peasant."

"As is natural, a long sojourn amid the classic shades of Cornhill and midnight wrestlings with Blackstone and Kent have toned down the impetuous spirit of the fiery shortstop and given him an air of quiet and conservatism. This, however, has in no way impaired his playing ability. That imperial arm, which was wont to cut short the career of ambitious batters, has lost some of its cunning, but is still able to do effective service, especially when helped out by the foxy old brain from which it receives its signal. The finish and accuracy of Jennings' play were noticeable features yesterday."

FOR LOWER POSTAGE ON MANUSCRIPTS

Society of American Authors Renewing Its Crusade.

The Society of American Authors has again opened its crusade against the comparatively high postage on manuscripts mailed by authors, newspaper correspondents, and ministers in the United States to other points in this country. The present charge is 2 cents an ounce. And yet, if these same authors wish to mail their manuscripts to the most remote parts of the world, they can do so at the rate of 1 cent for every two ounces, or four times more cheaply than they can mail to points within the United States.

Also, the same writers, if living in the remotest parts of the world, or to make the statement more striking, just across the border in Canada, can send their manuscripts to points within the United States at the rate of 1 cent for every two ounces, or four times more cheaply than they could if residing within the United States.

A committee consisting of Poulney J. Pigelow, Orlando J. Smith, Isaac K. Funk, M. P. Ferris, George C. Lorimer, Charles Burr Todd, Samuel P. Avery, and G. Grosvener Dawe, has sent out circulars explaining the situation and saying that the society hopes to obtain the introduction of a bill simultaneously in both Senate and House at the next session of Congress. The committee asks that those interested in the movement notify the secretary, Mr. Dawe, and send the names of others likely to be interested in such a movement and such contributions as they wish, to help carry on the large amount of correspondence necessary in the cause.

WANTED TO MEET MR. POE.

A well-known theatrical manager, who is distinguished rather for his business ability than for his knowledge of literature, was visited not long ago by an aspiring playwright. He had with him, he explained to the manager, the manuscript of a play based on one of Edgar Allan Poe's stories, which he was sure was destined to make a sensational hit on the stage. The manager consented to hear the play, and listened with increased interest as the playwright read from his manuscript.

FRANK FARRELL TAKES A FLYER ON NAMEOKI

Owner of Blues Wins $15,000 on His Two-Year-Old.

ONE OF HIS YEARLY COUPS

Sum Sufficient to Defray Expenses of His Racing Establishment—On Velvet From Now On.

Frank Farrell, the friend of "the best chief of police New York ever had," startled the visitors at the Sheephead Bay track yesterday by his heavy plunge bet on Nameoki, his two-year-old colt. Farrell was so confident that the youngster would win the Pansy Stakes that he backed him persistently from the opening to the close of betting and won nearly $15,000 on the result.

"It was one of Farrell's yearly plunges. He usually selects one race a year to bet on heavily, to even up the expenses of his stable. If the "coup" is successful, the winnings of the horses for the remainder of the year are recorded as the profit. Should the plans fail—well, it's a sad recollection to Farrell.

Colt Makes Good.

In the parlance of the Rialto, Nameoki "made good," and Farrell's stable henceforth will not cost him a penny to run. He told a friend that he wished he could say as much for his ball team—but that's another sad tale.

Farrell had commission agents place his wagers. The opening odds against Nameoki were 8 to 5, but they did not last long. Steadily the pressure of Farrell's money forced the odds down until at post time only a little even money was obtainable.

Nameoki won, but he had to be ridden hard and whipped frequently by Gannon in order to make him accomplish his task. He was last to leave the post and was interfered with twice. Just as his backers were becoming discouraged he slipped through an opening in the stretch and beat out the pacemaker, Walterin, and Sacredus, the last challenger, in a hard drive.

Haack's Queer Ride.

Surmise, handled by Bullman, proved a much superior horse than when handled by Haack. When ridden by the latter in his previous effort he had a bad attack of the "slows." He had speed in plenty yesterday and ran the mile and three furlongs in nearly record time. Haack is the jockey who rode that "erratic" colt, Shortnose, in his races. The stewards had occasion once to investigate the latter's running this year.

Savable, winner of last year's Futurity and favorite for the American Derby, will be shipped from Chicago today to keep his engagement in the Realization Stakes at Sheephead Bay on Tuesday. While here he will be in charge of Fred Burlew. O'Neill will ride him.

Jockey Fuller went to Chicago yesterday for a short trip. He is expected back on Monday. Archie Zlamer, who has him under contract, may permit him to accept mounts—if he is "good."

MEN WHO DON'T DRINK
ON TOPERS' BLACKLIST

West Chesterites Protest—Burgess' Plan Effective.

WEST CHESTER, July 4.—Burgess Pennypacker doesn't look happy today. His plan to curb drunkenness by furnishing hotels and restaurants with lists of habitual drunkards, coupled with the command not to furnish them with anything in the intoxicating line, is generally regarded as a fiasco.

When it was announced that the Burgess would put his scheme in operation on July 1, the public awaited the day with interest, while the town's toppers looked on with despair and wondered how they were to slake their thirst in the long, dry summer months.

The long-looked for lists that reached the saloonkeepers were found to contain, with a few exceptions, only the names of persons who were under ban long ago at the principal bars in the town.

A fair proportion of the names are those of men, who periodically find employment in the nurseries hereabouts. There is also a liberal sprinkling of negroes and five "unknown" women.

Only those appear on the lists who on divers occasions have been arraigned before the Burgess on one charge or another, while the sots who have managed to imbibe to excess day in and day out without falling into the clutches of the police, were not listed.

There are four particularly angry individuals, however. They say they have never taken liquor to excess, while one declares he never even tasted of strong drink, yet their names, or names identical the same, are found on the lists. They are now looking for explanations, and tomorrow, it is said, their lawyers will call upon the Burgess.

MARRIED ON WHEELS.

A curious wedding took place recently at the parish church of Aylestone, a village adjoining Leicester, England, the contracting parties being Ben Moore, a fello hand, aged thirty, and Mary Ann Elbe, a laundry hand, aged twenty-four. The bridegroom is a cripple, who has to use a hand-propelled machine as a means of locomotion. He was wheeled into the church and up to the chancel steps, and remained seated on the machine throughout the ceremony. At the conclusion he was wheeled out beside the bride.

TICKER IS TICKING
AGAIN AT WILDWOOD

Takoma Park Authorities Enjoined by United States Court.

The ticker will sound at the Wildwood poolroom this afternoon, and the betting on the horse races in different parts of the country will be resumed by the sporting fraternity. The operation of the telegraph wires leading to the Wildwood poolroom was made possible yesterday under an order granted by Justice Thomas J. Morris, of the United States Circuit Court for the District of Maryland, who enjoined Mayor Kinnear and the other members of the council of Takoma Park from cutting or otherwise interfering with the Wildwood poolroom wires.

This action was taken by Justice Morris on the petition of Thomas S. Holt, one of the proprietors of the Wildwood poolroom. Mr. Holt is a resident of New York, and for this reason, under the circumstances, had the right to a hearing before a Federal court in the matter. The Wildwood poolroom people are represented by Attorneys Lambert & Baker, of Washington, who appeared before Justice Morris and presented the petition.

Injunction May Be Permanent.

They made a full statement of the difficulties which the managers of the Wildwood poolroom have encountered; explained that the wires leading to the poolrooms have been cut both by the Maryland and the District authorities, the injunction granted against the Commissioners by Justice Anderson, of the Supreme Court of the District, and the injunction granted by Judge Henderson, of Montgomery county, Md., and finally the rescinding of the restraining order by the latter.

Justice Morris required the Wildwood people to enter into a bond for $2,000, which they did. The order will be of force permanently unless it be modified within ten days after the Takoma Park authorities file their answer and ask that the injunction be dissolved.

Business Immediately Resumed.

A United States deputy marshal returned from Baltimore yesterday afternoon with Messrs. Lambert & Baker and served notice on Mr. Kinnear and the members of the council of the issuance of the injunction against them.

The Wildwood people immediately put a force of hands at work to repair the cut wires, and by night the ticker was sounding.

When Mayor Kinnear was notified of the order issued against him he telegraphed his attorneys, Messrs. Prettyman, at Rockville, who went to Takoma Park last night to discuss the situation with the mayor. The result of the conference was not given out, and what will be the next step taken by the Maryland authorities is not known.

FED FISH TO SEA LION
TILL OWNER ARRIVED

Doctor and Undertaker the Lucky Pair in Search for Escaped Mammal.

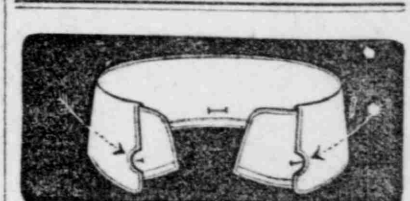

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 4.—A sea lion, one of the two kept in a pond near the Susquehanna River in a New York State town, escaped about a week ago and was captured today at Meshoppen, near here.

Fishermen all along the river had been on the watch for the animal, and it was reported in many places which it could not have reached.

Dr. Stephen Sturtevant and an undertaker named George Carter, of Meshoppen, who had been searching for it, discovered the lion in the middle of the river yesterday afternoon. They enticed it to shore by throwing fish to it, and it was kept close to the shore by constant supplies of fish until this morning, when its owner with the mate in a box, arrived and captured the lion. It was quite tame and made no resistance.

PRIZES FOR PATRIOTS.

ALBANY, July 4.—The committee from the G. A. R. reports the following prize winners out of 1,258 patriotic essays submitted in a contest inaugurated by Superintendent Skinner: Ten-dollar prizes, J. Kenneth Byard, Cooperstown; Mabelle Rockefeller, Valatie; Francis B. Nastin, Onondaga Valley; Charles Kimball Brown, Deposit; Julia M. Burton, Madison; Raymond E. Norris, Olean; Earl G. Thornton, Allegany; Roger G. Stonehouse, Albany; Josephine Bailey, Millport, Chenango county, and L. William Matthews, Westfield.

The Tyfold Collar

The picture shows how the collar is cut out on each side to allow for adjusting a neck tie without springing the collar open. The collar comes close together in front, it keeps the tie in place and you don't see the cut-out part. Besides the tie is retained just over the button, which is also kept out of sight. Your summer comfort will be increased if you wear one, and you'll thank us for the style. Dealers sell them.

MILLER KNOCKED DOWN AND OUT BY "JACK" RYAN

Baltimore Pugilist Enters Ring in Poor Physical Condition.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 4.—In the twenty-round go between Herman Miller, of Baltimore, and Jack Ryan, of Brooklyn, before the Savannah Athletic Club last night, Ryan put Miller down and out in the fifteenth round. This was after a fight with no specially creditable features. Both men
